

eLogic

Provide EVOQ Content training.

With expertise in the aerospace, high tech, medical device, and process manufacturing industries, Elogic combines process, products and consulting into specialized solutions in four key areas—designed to solve fundamental commerce problems and empower world-class companies to reach their full potential.

Having decided to move their website platform to EVOQ Content, Elogic needed an experienced source to train their marketing team and content administrators. Elogic secured T-WORX to create initial front-end templates and deliver EVOQ Content training, based on T-WORX's leading experience and expertise with Liquid Content/EVOQ.
